

Feng Shui literally means 'wind and water'. The interaction between these two elements creates an 'energy' or 'chi' (pronounced "chee"). At the heart of the practice of Feng Shui is the concept of Chi, as an energy that exists in all things. It circulates in our homes as well as our bodies. The main goal in Feng Shui is to channel, or direct the Chi inside your home so that it nourishes and supports a good flow of Chi inside your body, thus enhancing peace, harmony and success in your life.

We Respect Your Privacy

Information Collection & Use

We do not collect individually identifiable data on our website unless you choose to provide it to us by filling out a form on our website. If you fill out any forms on our site, we require that you provide certain personally identifiable information, including your name, address, phone number, etc. If you choose to provide us with personally identifiable information, we will only use it to fulfill the request(s) you have made. We DO NOT share personally identifiable information with any Third Parties.

Communications From Us

Based upon the personally identifiable information you provide us, we will communicate with you in response to your inquiries. We will communicate with you by email or telephone, in accordance with your wishes.

Log Files

As is true of most websites, we gather certain information automatically and store it in log files. This information includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and other data. We use this information, which does not identify individual users, to analyze trends, to administer the site, to track users movements around the site and to gather demographic information about our user base as a whole. We do not link this automatically-collected data to personally identifiable information.

Legal Disclaimer

We reserve the right to disclose your personally identifiable information as required by law and when we believe that disclosure is necessary to protect our rights and/or to comply with a judicial proceeding, court order, or legal process served on our website.

Changes in this Privacy Statement

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes to this privacy statement so that you are aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under what circumstances, if any, we disclose it. We reserve the right to modify this privacy statement at any time, so please review it frequently. If we make material changes to this policy, we will notify you here.

The information on this website is deemed to be correct but is not guaranteed.
